Testimonials

"... outstanding! You touched thousands of lives and you met all the facets of our mission statement. You helped create an environment that caused our meeting to be Unbelievable!"

—Mark Jones, Million Dollar Round Table

"Robin is an approachable hero with a message of integrity, character, leadership, and personal responsibility ... [his] presentation, punctuated by superb music and videos, was the highlight of our training session!"

—Beth Ann St. George, Arizona High Tech Institute

"Not until Robin have I ever witnessed this type of reaction to a keynote. What kind of speaker is ever asked for an encore? ... three standing ovations and an encore ... Robin's blend of inspiration and entertainment was a great combination."

—Gregory B. Anderson, Director, Crown Council, Inc.

"At a time when many in our group were struggling to overcome an economic recession, you lifted them up and gave them a new perspective on the opportunities waiting for them. You exceeded all of my expectations, [which] were high ... Your desire to succeed for our group was obvious from the first conversation we had until the last remaining attendee in line received your autograph ..."

—Todd Thomas, Managing Director, Institute of Door Dealer Education and Accreditation

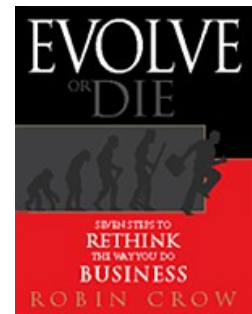

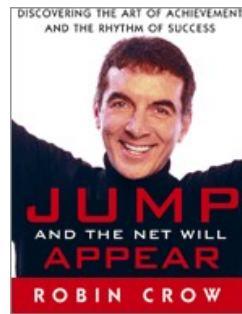

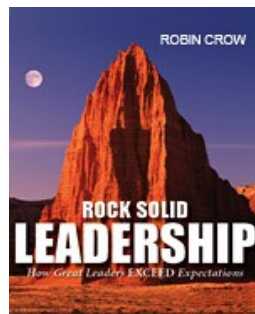

"Thank you for your presentation to [our] Roundtable of Industry Leaders ... Your presentation was a departure for us and was received with great enthusiasm. This group of CEOs and presidents are in an unenviable position, with pressure to perform in a downturn market ... your upbeat, calming, and life-affirming presentation was the balm needed to remind them that they are not alone and that with vision and perseverance, the outcome will be positive."

—Victoria Wheeler, Director of Meetings, Material Handling Industry of America

Robin Crow is a speaker, author, entrepreneur, business owner and one of the most innovative guitarists in the world.

After 30 years in the trenches, as an entrepreneur and business owner, Robin has fine-tuned his business acumen and developed real insights on leadership and customer service. For the past 13 years, he has led his company, Dark Horse Recording, to a prominent spot in the music industry as a world-class studio complex; home to Neil Diamond, Tim McGraw, Wynonna, Vince Gill, Faith Hill, Michael W. Smith, Jewel, and Alison Krauss, to name a few.

A popular and experienced speaker (who still manages to squeeze in a few songs on the guitar), Robin has delivered over 2,000 presentations to a wide variety of audiences. In the entertainment world, Robin released 10 albums; in the business arena he serves on a number of boards. Robin is also an occasional contributor on CNN and Canada AM, and the author of four books. His titles include The Power of an Idea, Rock Solid Leadership: How Great Leaders EXCEED Expectations, The Power of Service, and Jump and The Net Will Appear: Discovering the Art of Achieve and the Rhythm of Success, which has special appeal to young entrepreneurs and owners of startup companies. Robin's next book, Evolve or Die: Seven Steps to Rethink the Way You Do Business, is due out in the spring of 2010.
